

Cuddle Buddy Client Guidelines

I understand and agree to all of the following:

1. Both parties will remain clothed the entire session. If either party needs to change clothing this will be done in private and out of sight of the other party. If a client shows off areas normally covered by undergarments purposely, the cuddler has the right to leave. If the client has a clothing request that is season appropriate, you may ask (example: a cuddler being asked to wear a red sweater in winter instead of a blue long sleeve shirt).
2. No touching in areas covered by undergarments is permitted. If this occurs, the cuddler has the right to leave. No kissing is allowed.
3. Phone contact between cuddler and client is to schedule appointments ONLY.
4. All appointments must go through CuddleBuddy.me For every new session, a e-mail must be made informing CuddleBuddy.me.
5. CuddleBuddy.me knows all appointment dates, times, and locations. Cuddlers will check in after appointments to confirm they left safely.
6. The Cuddler or Client will not break any federal, city, state or county laws, statutes or regulations while performing services with the client.
7. If a Cuddler's safety is at risk, a cuddler may carry a non-lethal personal defense item to defend themselves.
8. Payment for each session is due before the session.
9. If you cancel an appointment within 24 hours prior to you will be required to pay a $20 cancellation fee.
10. Cleanliness and adequate hygiene is required by both parties. This specifically includes showering/teeth brushed within 4 hours of the appointment, wearing freshly laundered clothing, and no (or minimal) perfume/cologne be worn by both parties unless requested.
11. The client agrees hereby to indemnify and hold harmless Cuddlebuddy.me from any and all claims by the client which may arise out of and in the course of the service. The client releases Cuddle-Buddy.me from any liability.
12. No specific information regarding the client will ever be shared with another party outside of what is outlined in this agreement unless I, as the client, give written or e-mail permission to Cuddle-Buddy.me for a specific purpose.
